Selection Criteria:

Selection criteria may vary slightly depending on the subject area and the selection process may include a screening of application and related documents and an interview of qualified applicants by the admission and scholarship committee.

As a guideline, applicants will be assessed against the following four areas:

1. Outstanding academic records

An excellent academic record is essential. Other evidence of high academic achievement may include individual performance at GCE A/L and GC O/L examinations (Local /London) and evidence of other academic achievements or prizes at school level.

2. Leadership qualities and future potential

Particular consideration is given to leadership skills and future academic potential of applicants with relevance to the program of study. This may be assessed by reviewing leadership related achievements by the applicant as well as aptitude for strategic thinking and teamwork.

3. Extracurricular Activities

Extracurricular activities help students to learn outside traditional classroom settings and lessons learned and experience can be translated in life. This may be assessed by reviewing the activities that the applicant is currently participating and/or have previously been involved with.

4. Student Motivation

The applicant's motivation is a key factor for the success. This is assessed through evidence of the applicant's commitment to the proposed course as well as evaluation of the personal statement.

Performance based sports scholarship for Athletes:

Applicants for performance-based sports scholarship must meet the entrance requirements for the program of study that the applicant intends to enrol in and continue to obtain satisfactory grades/GPA in order to retain the scholarship. In order to qualify for this scholarship, applicants could have demonstrated high achievements in their chosen sport and be currently competing at national or international level or have previously competed at national or international level.
